

American University Students at CCCL

Written by Rajae

Tuesday, 10 January 2017 13:39 -

Our Center is running currently various programs on January 2017 for different US universities (77 participants).

The components of each program includes various activities designed to respond to each university needs. Among these activities are: orientation sessions about Moroccan traditions, customs, health issues, lectures provided by specialized speakers and Arabic courses given by experienced teachers.

The students will gain a rich experience about the Moroccan culture and the living style while they are with their homestay families. They will also go on excursions to explore some regions of Morocco including imperial cities like Meknes, Fes and Marrakech and will visit some rural places as well.

CCCL welcomes and wishes a memorable experience for all its students.

CCCL Team